Bullet is Yet Imbedded In Col. Roosevelt

Teddy's Physicians Say He Can Go to Oyster Bay Saturday—Crisis in Condition is Expected by Friday.

WILL NOT REMOVE BULLET AT PRESENT.
Chicago, Oct. 17.—At noon the following bulletin was issued by Col. Roosevelt's physicians:
"Pulse 72, temperature 98 and three-tenths, respiration 18 all night. Wound dressed. Looks well, some oozing. Examination of the lungs by Dr. Alexander Lambert shows lungs in good condition; general condition splendid. The case is progressing and unless some complications occur, the bullet will not be removed at present."
(Signed) "Murphy, Bevan, Lambert, Terrill."
Chicago, Oct. 17.—Col. Roosevelt spent the most uncomfortable night since the shooting and early this morning he showed the effects of sleeplessness and fatigue incident to the pain caused by his wound.
The Colonel went to sleep at 11:30 o'clock. At 4 o'clock this morning he awoke, turned uneasily in his bed and summoned one of the house physicians.
"I'm feeling all right," said Roosevelt when the physician hurried into the room. But from that time until he breakfasted at 6 o'clock, the patient exhibited signs of extreme restlessness and slept but little.
Miss May O'Keefe, night superintendent of the hospital, too, the first observations on the Colonel's condition today. At 6 o'clock his temperature was 98.4, respiration 18 and pulse 72.
"How do you feel?" Roosevelt was asked.
"Fine," was the response. "You may bring me three soft boiled eggs, a little well done bacon, some bread and butter and some tea, not too strong."
When breakfast was brought in to his room, Roosevelt ate with relish. He continued to say that he was feeling fine and expressed a desire for absolute quiet. Last night Mrs. Roosevelt remained with her husband until 10 o'clock. He then said he wished to read a while and she withdrew to her own room which adjoins that of the Colonel.
Instead of reading Roosevelt turned over the pages of several books then turned off the light and went to sleep. According to the physicians, the patient's rest until 4 o'clock this morning was unbroken. When the house physician came in response to his call, he rotated the muscles of the Colonel's chest to see if they had been affected. Roosevelt gave no sign of pain.
As the crisis of the case approaches, the physicians are keeping a strict watch to determine if blood poisoning or lockjaw develop.

The remaining portion of the crop will be kept on the farm until room can be engaged near the railroad.

EXCEPTIONS IN CASE ARE MANY

TRIAL OF ALLEGED MURDERERS AT SALEM PROCEEDS VERY SLOWLY.
Salem Court House, Salem, Mass., Oct. 17.—Further examination of witnesses for the government with the exception of a warm fight by counsel for the defense to throw out this testimony by newspapermen was slated in the second days actual trial of Ettore, Giovanni and Caruso when the Essex county court reopened today.
The jury which will decide the fate of the I. W. W. leaders, held so long in prison, filed in to the jury box at 9:29 and several minutes later court was called.
Attorneys for the defense declared shortly before court opened that they would again file exceptions to testimony by witnesses provided District Attorney Atwill attempts to bring out evidence that the defendants made inflammatory speeches shortly before the shooting of Annie Lopizzo during last winter's Lawrence strike.
District Attorney Atwill today proceeded with the work of examining witnesses in regard to inflammatory speeches by Ettore and Giovanni.

DOWN TO NORMAL

Lulls Police Court After Several Strenuous Sessions.
After four days of strenuous sessions, municipal court lulled down to normal Thursday morning with the usual crew of plain drunks. Four comprised the docket before Mayor Shook when he entered the court room this morning.
Elmer Huffman, Julius Alnsbrook, Abel Range and Con Sullivan were each fined $1.00 and storage expenses. Huffman was arrested in a drunken stupor at the Lake Erie and Western round house following the complaint of employees that he was trying to commit suicide. It developed that the attempt was only a ruse to attract attention.

POSTAGE STAMP CAMPAIGN MADE BY A. S. RUDY

MAKES HIS APPEAL TO THE VOTERS THROUGH THE U. S. MAIL SERVICE.
IS A TAFT REACTIONARY WHILE FAVORING PROGRESS.
DOES NOT INDICATE POSITION ON PROGRESSIVE MEASURES CONTEMPLATED.

(By J. W. Beall).
Dr. Albert S. Rudy, nominee on the republican machine ticket for Representative, is making his campaign in Allen county via the postage stamp route. He has sent to voters throughout the city and county circular letters and posters which announce that Albert S. Rudy, M. S., M. D., M. E., Special Medical Examiner for the Ohio State Sanatorium, is a candidate for the office mentioned and soliciting the support of the voters "regardless of party affiliation." Although a candidate on the Taft-stand-pat-reactionary ticket, Mr. Rudy assures the voters that he is in favor of progression and is opposed to trusts and monopolies. He also assures the electors of Allen county that he is opposed to child labor and the white slave traffic. He does not say so in his letter but it is believed that he is also opposed to murder and safe cracking, as he says in his eight-sheet poster that he "Stands For Square" on all moral and religious questions. Mr. Rudy would also have the followers of Jefferson and Bryan believe that he is with them for he declares in favor of "Government of the people, by the people, and for the people."
The Toledo News-Bee has been making a canvass of the candidates for legislative office in Ohio by letters which requests them to designate their position on 22 progressive measures which are proposed to be put up to the next legislature. Of Mr. Rudy's reply, the News-Bee says:
"Albert S. Rudy, Republican candidate for representative from Allen county, fails to indicate his position on the ballot containing the 22 progressive measures.
Rudy says the people of his county know his position on certain progressive measures. His printed platform calls for "a square deal," favors "high educational standard, good wages for laboring men, protection of home farm products and manufacturers and progression."
Of R. R. Kennedy, the democratic candidate for second term in the legislature, the Toledo paper publishes the following:
"R. R. Kennedy, Democratic candidate for representative from Allen county, goes on record as favoring 12 of the proposed 22 progressive measures. These include:
"Mother's pension, civil jury reform, employers' liability, valuation of public utilities, taxation of franchises, home rule for cities in matters of taxation child labor restrictions, separate ballots for state and national officers, penal reform, home rule for cities, conservation of natural resources, and protection of investors against worthless stocks and bonds."
"Kennedy favors state-wide primaries if they do not destroy political parties." He favors the minimum wage, "if it will not deprive of employment those who are incapable of earning a minimum wage." He favors removal of official "for cause on proof of guilt." He is inclined to vote no on the inheritance tax. He is favorable to an income tax.
"On the reduction in hours of employed women and children, Kennedy says if they are compelled to work for a livelihood they must have opportunity to earn a sufficient amount to meet that end. He favors a 'goods roads levy,' that the work of road building may be carried on scientifically and systematically. He favors judicial reform."

UNCLE SAM REFUSES TO 'FIX HIS POST OFFICE PAVEMENT.'
The United States government is paying no municipal assessments this year," was the rather laconic reply received by Director Harman of the service department Thursday morning following his petition to the treasury department to fill a slight depression existing in the cement pavement at the rear of the postoffice on west High street.
In explanation the communication stated that congress had overlooked an appropriation to cover municipal assessments on government property and consequently the treasury department could entertain no petition for repairs.
The depression in the pavement at the rear of the postoffice has been a source of much complaint, water standing there for several days after each rain.

BEGIN TO RUSH BECKER MURDER TRIAL TO END

Expect Jerome to Break Down Jack Rose's Story.

(By United Press)
New York, Oct. 17.—Unable to complete his case against Police Lieut. Chas. Becker last night owing to the length of time consumed by Attorney McIntyre in cross-examining witnesses, District Attorney Whitman started to rush matters when the trial was resumed today. He had only a few witnesses left with whom he planned to round up the loose ends and then would rest permitting McIntyre to present his defense.
McIntyre sprung a distinct surprise on the prosecution when he let it be known that he relied on former District Attorney Wm. Traver Jerome to break down Jack Rose's story. Jerome was to be called to swear that he and Attorney John W. Hart were present when Becker called up Rose at Harry Pollock's house and that no mention whatever was made by the policeman of the crime nor did he tell Rose that 200 policemen were looking for him.
Becker expected to throw blame for the murder of Rosenthal directly on the four chief witnesses against him—Rose, Vallon, Webber and Schepke. He insisted that he would take the stand today in his own defense.

MOTOR CYCLE RIDER AND A GIRL INJURED

BERLIN KERR HAS JAW BROKEN AND MARIE MILLER ESCAPES INJURY.

A rider was seriously hurt and a school girl narrowly escaped serious injury when a motorcycle plunged into a telephone post at the intersection of Elizabeth and High streets at 12:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon.
Berlin Kerr, 39, proprietor of a bicycle repair shop on east Elm street, suffered a broken jaw bone, a lacerated face and the loss of several teeth in the crash. Marie Miller, 15, a Lima high school senior and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Miller, 569 south Pine street, was slightly stunned when the wreckage crashed to the pavement as she started to cross the street.
Steering his four-cylinder motorcycle sharply to avoid striking a farmer's rig, Kerr drove his machine directly into the post at the northeast corner. He was hurled forward through the air, plunging headlong into the obstacle. Witnesses to the accident extricated him from beneath the wrecked machine and summoned the Williams & Davis ambulance. Kerr was removed to the Steiner hospital nearby where his injuries were attended.
Examination upon the operating table revealed a broken jaw bone, an ugly cut running along the jaw bone and extending beneath the chin, and painful body bruises. He was later removed to his home on north Main street.
Miss Miller was approaching the corner from the east and had stepped into the street when the motorcycle struck the pole. The machine grazed her as it passed. She was severely shocked.
A farmer was driving his rig diagonally across the intersection when Kerr approached the corner running his machine at 10 miles an hour. He attempted to avoid the other rig and in doing so collided with the telephone post.

SOMEbody FIBBED.

SUFFRAGETTES WORRY POLICE

(By United Press)
London, Oct. 17.—That Mr. and Mrs. Pethick Lawrence's secession from the Woman's social and political union resulted from their opposition to an unprecedentedly violent demonstration of suffragette militancy planned by Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst and her daughters, Christabel and Sylvia, was reported in Suffragette circles today. Scotland yard was much perturbed by the threat, since there was in intimation that it will be prevented by the Lawrences' withdrawal from the union.
The militant suffragettes having already progressed as far as attempts at arson, the officials expressed the opinion that the "still more violent demonstration" hinted at will be something very serious indeed.

A rider was seriously hurt and a school girl narrowly escaped serious injury when a motorcycle plunged into a telephone post at the intersection of Elizabeth and High streets at 12:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon.
Berlin Kerr, 39, proprietor of a bicycle repair shop on east Elm street, suffered a broken jaw bone, a lacerated face and the loss of several teeth in the crash. Marie Miller, 15, a Lima high school senior and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Miller, 569 south Pine street, was slightly stunned when the wreckage crashed to the pavement as she started to cross the street.
Steering his four-cylinder motorcycle sharply to avoid striking a farmer's rig, Kerr drove his machine directly into the post at the northeast corner. He was hurled forward through the air, plunging headlong into the obstacle. Witnesses to the accident extricated him from beneath the wrecked machine and summoned the Williams & Davis ambulance. Kerr was removed to the Steiner hospital nearby where his injuries were attended.
Examination upon the operating table revealed a broken jaw bone, an ugly cut running along the jaw bone and extending beneath the chin, and painful body bruises. He was later removed to his home on north Main street.

Miss Miller was approaching the corner from the east and had stepped into the street when the motorcycle struck the pole. The machine grazed her as it passed. She was severely shocked.
A farmer was driving his rig diagonally across the intersection when Kerr approached the corner running his machine at 10 miles an hour. He attempted to avoid the other rig and in doing so collided with the telephone post.

SUFFRAGETTES WORRY POLICE

(By United Press)

London, Oct. 17.—That Mr. and Mrs. Pethick Lawrence's secession from the Woman's social and political union resulted from their opposition to an unprecedentedly violent demonstration of suffragette militancy planned by Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst and her daughters, Christabel and Sylvia, was reported in Suffragette circles today. Scotland yard was much perturbed by the threat, since there was in intimation that it will be prevented by the Lawrences' withdrawal from the union.
The militant suffragettes having already progressed as far as attempts at arson, the officials expressed the opinion that the "still more violent demonstration" hinted at will be something very serious indeed.

Miss Christabel Pankhurst is still an exile in Paris but in constant communication with the militants at home.

Mahoney, 45, married agent for the Erie Brewing Co., was almost instantly killed. Chas. M. Gregg, hotel proprietor, was probably fatally injured. H. E. Winslow, of Cleveland, manager of a Mausoleum Company, was badly bruised.

Wealthy Property Owner Arrested As Result Of A Police Raid

Believing that the only way to conduct a successful anti-vice crusade is to strike at the bed-rock of the evil, Mayor Shook Thursday morning caused the arrest of A. H. Roberts, an Alle county capitalist, charging him with renting a house at 228 North Central avenue, for immoral purposes. The place is the alleged resort of Mrs. Mae Shaffer, which police raided Tuesday evening, arresting Mrs. Shaffer and two of the inmates.

Roberts was arraigned at noon today, but declined to enter a plea before consulting an attorney.

Other arrests are promised within the next few days. Police have several questionable houses under surveillance and it was rumored Thursday afternoon that at least two raids were contemplated tonight by the anti-vice squad.

Mae Shaffer, Sadie Hart and Ella Harris were arraigned before the mayor, Wednesday afternoon on charges of conducting houses of ill repute. They pleaded not guilty, waived a preliminary hearing and were held to the grand jury for investigation. All succeeded in furnishing bond in the sum of $100.00 each. Five women taken from the houses during the raid, forfeited

BILIOUSNESS, GAS, HEADACHE, MEAN CONSTIPATED BOWELS.

Delicious "Syrup of Figs" cleanses your stomach, liver and 30 feet of bowels of sour bile, gases, decaying food and clogged-up waste, no griping.

A harmless cure for sick headache, for biliousness, for a sour gassy, disordered stomach, for constipation, indigestion, coated tongue, salivary glands, pimples—take delicious Syrup of Figs. For the cause of all these troubles lies in a torpid liver and sluggish condition of your thirty feet of bowels.

A teaspoonful of Syrup of Figs tonight means all poisonous waste matter, the undigested, fermenting food and sour bile, gently moved on and out of your system by morning, without griping, nausea or weakness. It means a cheery day tomorrow—many bright days thereafter.

Please don't think of gentle, effective Syrup of Figs as a physic. Don't think you are drugging yourself for luscious figs, senna and aromatics can not injure anyone. This remarkable fruit preparation is a wonderful stomach, liver and bowel cleanser, regulator and tonic, the safest and most positive ever devised.

The day of violent purgatives, such as calomel, pills, salts and castor oil is past. They were all wrong. You got relief by flooding the bowels with fluids, but these fluids were digestive juices. Syrup of Figs embody only harmless laxatives, which act in a natural way. It does what right food would do—what eating lots of fruit and what plenty of exercise will do for the liver, stomach and bowels.

Be sure you get the old reliable and genuine. Ask your druggist for the full name, "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna," prepared by The California Fig Syrup Company. Hand back with scorn, any Fig Syrup imitation recommended as "just as good."

TO SEE BIG GAME

Local Gridiron Enthusiasts Will Journey to Columbus.

A score or more of followers of the gridiron sport are planning to attend the Ohio State-Michigan game at Columbus, Saturday afternoon. The game is one of nation-wide interest from the fact that the State has one of its strongest teams this year. Since 1905, the Ann Arbor lads have walloped the Columbus warriors in the Michigan fair each year. The 1912 game is to be played in Columbus and thousands of football enthusiasts will flock to the capital city Saturday to witness two of the strongest western teams lock horns.

Although plans have not yet been completed, a move is on foot to organize a Lima contingent to attend the game.

STOMACH MISERY JUST VANISHES

NO INDIGESTION, GAS OR SOURNESS AFTER TAKING "PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN."

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach headache—this is indigestion.

A full case of Pape's Diapepsin costs only fifty cents and will thoroughly cure your out-of-order stomach, and leave sufficient about the house in case some one else in the family may suffer from stomach trouble or indigestion.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula plainly printed on these fifty-cent cases, then you will understand why drapetis trouble of all kinds must go, and why they usually relieve sour, out-of-order stomachs or indigestion in five minutes. Diapepsin is harmless and tastes like candy, though each dose contains sufficient to digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to the table with a healthy appetite; but, what will please you most, is that you will feel that your stomach and intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for biliousness or constipation.

This city will have many Diapepsin cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be cranky about this splendid stomach preparation, too, if you ever try a little for indigestion or gastritis or any other stomach misery.

Get some now, this minute, and forever rid yourself of stomach trouble and indigestion.

Men and Matters

Failure of the grand jury to indict resulted in the release of Frank Ames held for the murder of David Cassell, a civil war veteran on June 4th. Cassell was butchered in a box car in the north C. H. & D. yards and suspicion pointed toward Ames from the fact that he informed the police of the crime. Ames, after being held four months, was released several days ago.

Stepping through an open trap-door leading into a cellar, Mrs. J. H. Neely, aged 65, 497 McPherson avenue, plunged ten feet Wednesday evening, suffering severe bruises and a dangerous scalp wound. Mrs. Neely is the mother-in-law of Alderman W. S. Shook. Her condition is regarded as serious on account of her advanced age.

The executive staff of the First Christian church Bible school were guests of Superintendent A. S. Chenoweth at a banquet in the church parlors Wednesday evening. The principal talk of the evening was made by Prof. John Davison, superintendent of public schools, on the topic, "The Value of Character to the Sunday School Teacher." C. A. Graham, superintendent of the senior department, also gave a brief address. The entertainment was given in the way of a surprise.

Mr. Willis McKibben, of Bellefontaine avenue, returned home, Wednesday from Put-In-Bay Island, to spend the winter after being there the past three months. He will return to that place next spring, however, prospects being bright for much business and activity there next year.

Secretary Frank E. Eberhart, of the city Y. M. C. A. urges a full attendance at Friday evening's opening of the winter school law course. Former City Solicitor Warren McLaughlin is booked for an address. Mr. McLaughlin will speak from the topic of "The Employers' and Workmen's Liability Insurance Law." A large enrollment is anticipated.

Mrs. R. W. Thrift, of north Baxter street, returned from Toledo yesterday where on Tuesday she won the Inverness Ladies' Cup in handicap tournament there, defeating her opponent, Miss Margaret Kitchen, the Lima player "winning three up and one to play in the eighteen hole match.

'GIANTS LOST, WON, THEN DUBBED SERIES AWAY'--GRANTLAND RICE

$30,000 SLIPPED BY ON TWO TENTH INNING MISPLAYS--SUMMARY

(BY GRANTLAND RICE.)

Boston, Mass., Oct. 17.—There is but one answer to the most dramatic, heart-tearing world's series ever played. Mathewson, the central figure of the swirling scene, could beat the Sox unaided but he was powerless before the combined assault of the Red Sox and the Giants. Briefly, pitching with all the wonder of his combined brain, heart and arm, he was unequal to the task of beating both clubs. He was never greater in his career but there is no man that ever lived who is great enough to beat 17.

Three times he stood and fought back the Red Sox rush. He carried them into two extra sessions in spite of his support, not through it. In these contests he held his rivals to two earned runs while eight unearned runs were scored behind him. But the answer comes here—in the three games all runs were piled against him and of these nine were presented Boston through the "bleared" support of his own benchmen. Backed up as he should have been and counting only the earned runs made by both contests, his three games should have resulted 5-0, 1-1 and 2-1, with two victories and a draw in place of two defeats and a draw.

THE LAST STAND.
Take that last stand by Mathewson where working the deciding battle after the frenzy of those first seven games, he came back with the greatest pitching he has shown this year—pitching he has never surpassed when in his prime. He had a one run lead to the seventh when Stahl popped a short fly between Snodgrass and Murray which should have been eaten alive but which was allowed to drop safely for a hit. A double followed later on from Hendricksen's timely bat, and the score was tied. But still he had an even fight when the redoubtable Murray tore a double from Wood in the tenth and Merkle drove him home, it seemed as if fate at last had turned his way, whenever by his valiant battle against such unbeatable odds.

Engle, batting for Wood, lifted a fly to center and one man looked good. The ball soared up and out, looped in a curving arch to Snodgrass, set for the play, dropped into his glove and popped out again as if straining every part of the rubber trust Hooper, however, died on a line smash and there was a chance again. Speaker always a deadly dangerous hitter, swung weakly and lifted a short foul fly within six feet of first. Merkle, apparently still in a trance from the fatal muff in center failed to rush for the ball which should have been one of the easiest outs of the game and it fluttered to earth, between these two plays the extra $30,000 which had almost disappeared into the Giants' pockets, fluttered out and over to Boston. Speaker given life, smashed a hit and before the rally ended Mathewson had lost another fight.

NO ALIBIS TO PRESENT.
Beyond sympathy for Mathewson we have no alibis to present. When a series goes to the tenth round of the eighth game and swings in the balance upon an easy fly ball and a short pop foul, we'll leave it to keener visions than we possess to cut into the dope and award the edge on playing form.

The Giants outbatted, outpitched and outplayed Boston on the bases with a margin of 2 to 1. But when a team, excelling in these departments with 26 earned runs against 12 is unable to maintain and protect this advantage in defensive play, there is, certainly no roar coming over the break of the battle. When a team can't protect a margin of 14 earned runs in eight games sufficiently to win at least four of the games, there is no opening left to charge the final result to luck—despite the greater part luck played all through this frenzied drama.

TEAM FOR TEAM.
Team for team the Giants batted 275 against 223, scored 31 runs against 25, made 75 hits for 101 bases against 61 hits for 85 bases; stole 13 bases to Boston's 6 and earned 26 runs to Boston's 12. But against this McGraw's team had 18 errors to Boston's 10 and of the 18 fourteen came at tight spots of the battle and brought in runs.

Through this wretched defense the Giants kicked themselves into the hole and were trailing 3 to 1, they then steadily fought their way back savagely to even terms and with the championship alone, turned again in the last round of the 15 innings played and proceeded to kick it away beyond recall. And while all their rank fielding through the series—lighted as it was by any number of brilliant plays—they reserved the last 75 rounds to offer their greatest flareup and their most miserable work.

MAN FOR MAN.
Summed up in closer detail Meyers out batted, and out caught Cady. Mathewson, Marquard and Tesreau combined out pitched Wood, O'Brien, Collins and Bedient. Stahl outplayed Merkle by yards and Yerkes outplayed Doyle as an asset to his club.

At short, Wagner was steadier than Fletcher and did the better work, due to Fletcher's ghastly start. But neither could hit. Over at third the margin was the widest, as Herzog outplayed Gardner by forty lengths, also outplayed the rest of the field. Beyond all doubt he was the star of the series in every way from the view point of batting time hitting, run getting, fielding, steadiness and brilliancy.

Murray, playing left field in five of the eight games, was Herzog's closest rival from the field in. He outclassed Lewis at every turn and stands as one of the three big stars of any world's series play. But for the breaks of fortune against him, he would have won the first and last games alone, driving in or scoring four of the five runs compiled by the Giants in these two contests.

In center Speaker loomed so far beyond Snodgrass the comparison is pitiful. Speaker was the only Red Sox to bat .300 and his fielding was brilliant. Snodgrass, batting poorly, kicked away two games in the field and was the main cause of the last disaster. Over in right, Devore and Hooper had a game, brilliant fight where both were effective at bat and saved the situation time and again by remarkable catches.

When Hooper raced to the right field wall, launched himself into midair yesterday and hauled down Larry Doyle's almost sure home run he not only made the greatest individual play of the series, but saved the game beyond all doubt.

Of the nine jobs, each team excelled in four with one a tie. Team for team the Giants ex-

DID HIS BEST

JOSH DEVORE

Plucky little member of the Giants who worked every minute of the world's series.

Celled in three of the four vital departments, batting, pitching, fielding and base running—but were too far shy in their work department to cover their margin won in other ways.

It seems the irony of fate to have this last desperate charge marred and blurred by plays which you or I weary reader, who have not possibly handled a ball in years could make with one hand while lighting a pipe with the other.

STARS AND OTHERWISE.

The star of the series was Herzog, who outplayed both teams at every angle—who outbatted and outscored all others—and who fought his way through eight nerve-smashing games without an error. Next to Herzog rank Jack Murray. For Boston the stars were Yerkes, Stahl and Hopper.

Among the disappointments was Larry Doyle, whom despite several brilliant plays, was far below the class he showed last year.

THE FINAL ROUNDUP.

Summed up, it was a series including the wildest mixture of brilliant and wretched playing—impossible catches and easy chances marred, wonderful and bush league pitching, desperate chances and dumb-bush league work—a veritable swirl of all that goes to make up baseball from every angle of the game.

FOGEL IS TO BE GRILLED BEFORE LYNCH

New York, Oct. 17.—Investigation of charges said to have been made by President Horace Fogel of the Philadelphia club that umpires threw the pennant to the Giants, was to be made at a meeting of the National League here today.

Fogel said that his statement in Chicago, which startled the baseball world a few weeks ago, cannot be construed as a direct charge against the honesty of league officials. He merely stated things reported to him by an umpire, he said, as facts.

President Lynch had collected all the evidence he could find and was reported as saying that if Fogel were not put out of the league he would resign.

SOX TO GET $88,543.01

Boston, Oct. 17.—The total paid attendance for the series of eight games was 252,037. The total receipts were $490,833.

Each club's share was $147,028.85.

The national commission's share was $49,083.30.

The total players' share, derived from the first four games only was $147,471.69.

Of this amount, the Boston players, as winners, shared 60 percent or $88,543.01.

The New York players, as losers, shared $59,028.69.

Each Red Sox player, of whom 22 were eligible, received $4,324.68.

The Giant players, of whom 23 were eligible, received $2,666.46.

The figures in every case are greater than those for any previous world series.

Something About Chinaware
Every woman is proud of her china, and wants to keep it looking new and perfect. So often she will use the wrong kind of soap on it and injure it in appearance—make it look worn and cheap. "Easy Task Soap"—the hard white, pure laundry soap—is the only kind to use on china. Not only does it clean china quickly and safely, but its anti-epileptic qualities sterilize the china. In these days of germs, caused diseases this is an important point.

Lima High Team Ready for Kenton Friday Afternoon

Strongest Lineup of Season Will be Sent Against Kenton--Easy Game Anticipated--Counsellor Back in Game.

Keying his squad to the highest pitch of efficiency and projecting his strongest array of talent in brisk scrimmage sessions the past week, Coach Simpson will send Lima High warriors against Kenton High at the college grounds, Friday afternoon in what is expected to be one of the easiest games of the season for the local lads.

Kenton High lost to Bluffton last week by a score of something like 30 to 0, and is presumably one of the weakest teams of the interscholastic association.

Lima High will have its most talented back field of the present season. Peck has injected both brawn and brains into the team at full back. Sudowitz, switched to a half after his brilliant work displayed at the quarter position, has greatly strengthened the squad. Davis will quite likely play the other half. 'GIANTS LOST, WON, THEN DUBBED SERIES AWAY'--GRANTLAND RICE

$30,000 SLIPPED BY ON TWO TENTH INNING MISPLAYS--SUMMARY

(BY GRANTLAND RICE.)

Boston, Mass., Oct. 17.—There is but one answer to the most dramatic, heart-tearing world's series ever played. Mathewson, the central figure of the swirling scene, could beat the Sox unaided but he was powerless before the combined assault of the Red Sox and the Giants. Briefly, pitching with all the wonder of his combined brain, heart and arm, he was unequal to the task of beating both clubs. He was never greater in his career but there is no man that ever lived who is great enough to beat 17.

Three times he stood and fought back the Red Sox rush. He carried them into two extra sessions in spite of his support, not through it. In these contests he held his rivals to two earned runs while eight unearned runs were scored behind him. But the answer comes here—in the three games all runs were piled against him and of these nine were presented Boston through the "bleary-eyed" support of his own benchmen. Backed up as he should have been and counting only the earned runs made by both contests, his three games should have resulted 5-0, 1-1 and 2-1, with two victories and a draw in place of two defeats and a draw.

THE LAST STAND.
Take that last stand by Mathewson where working the deciding battle after the frenzy of those first seven games, he came back with the greatest pitching he has shown this year—pitching he has never surpassed when in his prime. He had a one run lead to the seventh when Stahl popped a short fly between Snodgrass and Murray which should have been eaten alive but which was allowed to drop safely for a hit. A double followed later on from Hendricksen's timely bat, and the score was tied. But still he had an even fight when the redoubtable Murray tore a double from Wood in the tenth and Merkle drove him home, it seemed as if fate at last had turned his way, whenever by his valiant battle against such unbeatable odds.

Engle, batting for Wood, lifted a fly to center and one man looked good. The ball soared up and out, looped in a curving arch to Snodgrass, set for the play, dropped into his glove and popped out again as if straining every part of the rubber trust Hooper, however, died on a line smash and there was a chance again. Speaker always a deadly dangerous hitter, swung weakly and lifted a short foul fly within six feet of first. Merkle, apparently still in a trance from the fatal muff in center failed to rush for the ball which should have been one of the easiest outs of the game and it fluttered to earth, between these two plays the extra $30,000 which had almost disappeared into the Giants' pockets, fluttered out and over to Boston. Speaker given life, smashed a hit and before the rally ended Mathewson had lost another fight.

NO ALIBIS TO PRESENT.
Beyond sympathy for Mathewson we have no alibis to present. When a series goes to the tenth round of the eighth game and swings in the balance upon an easy fly ball and a short pop foul, we'll leave it to keener visions than we possess to cut into the dope and award the edge on playing form.

The Giants outbatted, outpitched and outplayed Boston on the bases with a margin of 2 to 1. But when a team, excelling in these departments with 26 earned runs against 12 is unable to maintain and protect this advantage in defensive play, there is, certainly no roar coming over the break of the battle. When a team can't protect a margin of 14 earned runs in eight games sufficiently to win at least four of the games, there is no opening left to charge the final result to luck—despite the greater part luck played all through this frenzied drama.

TEAM FOR TEAM.
Team for team the Giants batted 275 against 223, scored 31 runs against 25, made 75 hits for 101 bases against 61 hits for 85 bases; stole 13 bases to Boston's 6 and earned 26 runs to Boston's 12. But against this McGraw's team had 18 errors to Boston's 10 and of the 18 fourteen came at tight spots of the battle and brought in runs.

Through this wretched defense the Giants kicked themselves into the hole and were trailing 3 to 1, they then steadily fought their way back savagely to even terms and with the championship alone, turned again in the last round of the 15 innings played and proceeded to kick it all away beyond recall. And while all their rank fielding through the series—lighted as it was by any number of brilliant plays—they reserved the last 75 rounds to offer their greatest flareup and their most miserable work.

MAN FOR MAN.
Summed up in closer detail Meyers out batted, and out caught Cady. Mathewson, Marquard and Tesreau combined out pitched Wood, O'Brien, Collins and Bedient. Stahl outplayed Merkle by yards and Yerkes outplayed Doyle as an asset to his club.

At short, Wagner was steadier than Fletcher and did the better work, due to Fletcher's ghastly start. But neither could hit. Over at third the margin was the widest, as Herzog outplayed Gardner by forty lengths, also outplayed the rest of the field. Beyond all doubt he was the star of the series in every way from the view point of batting time hitting, run getting, fielding, steadiness and brilliancy.

Murray, playing left field in five of the eight games, was Herzog's closest rival from the field in. He outclassed Lewis at every turn and stands as one of the three big stars of any world's series play. But for the breaks of fortune against him, he would have won the first and last games alone, driving in or scoring four of the five runs compiled by the Giants in these two contests.

In center Speaker loomed so far beyond Snodgrass the comparison is pitiful. Speaker was the only Red Sox to bat .300 and his fielding was brilliant. Snodgrass, batting poorly, kicked away two games in the field and was the main cause of the last disaster. Over in right, Devore and Hooper had a game, brilliant fight where both were effective at bat and saved the situation time and again by remarkable catches.

When Hooper raced to the right field wall, launched himself into midair yesterday and hauled down Larry Doyle's almost sure home run he not only made the greatest individual play of the series, but saved the game beyond all doubt.

Of the nine jobs, each team excelled in four with one a tie. Team for team the Giants ex-

DID HIS BEST

JOSH DEVORE

Plucky little member of the Giants who worked every minute of the world's series.

Celled in three of the four vital departments, batting, pitching, fielding and base running—but were too far shy in their work department to cover their margin won in other ways.

It seems the irony of fate to have this last desperate charge marred and blurred by plays which you or I weary reader, who have not possibly handled a ball in years could make with one hand while lighting a pipe with the other.

STARS AND OTHERWISE.

The star of the series was Herzog, who outplayed both teams at every angle—who outbatted and outscored all others—and who fought his way through eight nerve-smashing games without an error. Next to Herzog rank Jack Murray. For Boston the stars were Yerkes, Stahl and Hopper.

Among the disappointments was Larry Doyle, whom despite several brilliant plays, was far below the class he showed last year.

THE FINAL ROUNDUP.

Summed up, it was a series including the wildest mixture of brilliant and wretched playing—impossible catches and easy chances marred, wonderful and bush league pitching, desperate chances and dumb-bush league work—a veritable swirl of all that goes to make up baseball from every angle of the game.

FOGEL IS TO BE GRILLED BEFORE LYNCH

New York, Oct. 17.—Investigation of charges said to have been made by President Horace Fogel of the Philadelphia club that umpires threw the pennant to the Giants, was to be made at a meeting of the National League here today.

Fogel said that his statement in Chicago, which startled the baseball world a few weeks ago, cannot be construed as a direct charge against the honesty of league officials. He merely stated things reported to him by an umpire, he said, as facts.

President Lynch had collected all the evidence he could find and was reported as saying that if Fogel were not put out of the league he would resign.

SOX TO GET $88,543.01

Boston, Oct. 17.—The total paid attendance for the series of eight games was 252,037. The total receipts were $490,833.

Each club's share was $147,028.85.

The national commission's share was $49,083.30.

The total players' share, derived from the first four games only was $147,471.69.

Of this amount, the Boston players, as winners, shared 60 percent or $88,543.01.

The New York players, as losers, shared $59,028.69.

Each Red Sox player, of whom 22 were eligible, received $4,324.68.

The Giant players, of whom 23 were eligible, received $2,666.46.

The figures in every case are greater than those for any previous world series.

Something About Chinaware

Every woman is proud of her china, and wants to keep it looking new and perfect. So often she will use the wrong kind of soap on it and injure it in appearance—make it look worn and cheap. "Easy Task Soap"—the hard white, pure laundry soap—is the only kind to use on china. Not only does it clean china quickly and safely, but its anti-epileptic qualities sterilize the china. In these days of germs, caused diseases this is an important point.

Lima High Team Ready for Kenton Friday Afternoon

Strongest Lineup of Season Will be Sent Against Kenton--Easy Game Anticipated--Counsellor Back in Game.

Keying his squad to the highest pitch of efficiency and projecting his strongest array of talent in brisk scrimmage sessions the past week, Coach Simpson will send Lima High warriors against Kenton High at the college grounds, Friday afternoon in what is expected to be one of the easiest games of the season for the local lads.

Kenton High lost to Bluffton last week by a score of something like 30 to 0, and is presumably one of the weakest teams of the interscholastic association.

Lima High will have its most talented back field of the present season. Peck has injected both brawn and brains into the team at full back. Sudowitz, switched to a half after his brilliant work displayed at the quarter position, has greatly strengthened the squad. Davis will quite likely play the other half. There may be a few changes in the forwards. Most notable is that of the return of Counsellor to the game. This husky was banished last Friday at the instance of his parents, but will be back in the game tomorrow afternoon.

One of the largest crowds of the season is anticipated Friday. The student body is making busy preparations to attend en masse and cheer their athletes on to victory. The local squad has won one and lost one this season, but with recent changes the team has been strengthened and the gridironers expect to finish the year with a spotless record.

That Brotherly Love.

AMERICANS as a rule are cold-blooded. Somehow in the everyday rush and crush and shove and push for that almighty dollar that brings happiness only on this earth they trample each other, and seldom stop to see how serious is the hurt.

But with all the struggle, midst all the strife in the commercial world, there is running through the veins of every American a bit of red blood that through brotherly love binds one to another and hearts are, after all, gripped as though with hooks of steel. In no other country does such a condition obtain.

Theodore Roosevelt is not, from all indications, the ideal man for the presidency of the United States. Thousands there are who agree that even Taft or Wilson could be improved upon. But with the cry of traitor, the accusation of theft and denunciation of the man who would seek a third term—that brotherly love crops out again and above all of this can be heard nothing but sympathy for Mr. Roosevelt.

American heroes, after all, are hardly to be classed as heroes until they are dead. Heroes there are in real life to day, all around us, but a couple of lines in the newspaper is about all they get until death comes. Then the usual clamor of public sentiment demands, and gets, a marble shaft that pierces the sky.

Brotherly love is unlike in any other country the brotherly love we know and feel in America. Men may differ with us in love, in politics, in religion, but let misfortune overtake one, and that spirit of brotherly love forgives and forgets. And somehow it seems natural that Americans are brothers after all—somehow it seems that a fellow feeling makes one not only wondrous kind in this country, but serves to make the world kin.

Editorials.

UNDER the title, "Editorials," Collier's Weekly goes back into the past to find editorial writers—greatly to the delight of all of us little fellows of today who are earning our bread and butter by producing that which passes current for "editorial" matter. The paper mentioned Voltaire, Macaulay and Swift as being among those of the past who would have made fine editorial writers. But a correspondent of the Weekly wants Dickens and DeFoe also included in the list.

In its comment the paper says that "DeFoe, however, with his marvelous impressions of actuality, would be greater as a special writer than as an editorial critic." The mention of the name Dickens, however, appeals to the Weekly, which adds:

"Dickens, if he could adapt himself to brief units, would in American journalism today be a mighty power to reach and move the hearts of men. The same genius that went into his fiction has overflowed into some of his critical work, and always there is the great ability to entertain, mixed with a need of using that power for the betterment of life, which is exactly the combination that the ideal editor ought to have, particularly in America, but more and more in all countries as they become more Democratic."

The combination which the ideal editor ought to have—ability to entertain and power for the betterment of life. How very far, oh, Lord, are the most of us from the ideal! But, perhaps, in the good days to come we shall breed ideal editors—and the angels will declare the millennium at hand, without further comment.—Dayton News.

That Brotherly Love.

A MERICANS as a rule are cold-blooded. Somehow in the everyday rush and crush and shove and push for that almighty dollar that brings happiness only on this earth they trample each other, and seldom stop to see how serious is the hurt.

But with all the struggle, midst all the strife in the commercial world, there is running through the veins of every American a bit of red blood that through brotherly love binds one to another and hearts are, after all, gripped as though with hooks of steel. In no other country does such a condition obtain.

Theodore Roosevelt is not, from all indications, the ideal man for the presidency of the United States. Thousands there are who agree that even Taft or Wilson could be improved upon. But with the cry of traitor, the accusation of theft and denunciation of the man who would seek a third term—that brotherly love crops out again and above all of this can be heard nothing but sympathy for Mr. Roosevelt.

American heroes, after all, are hardly to be classed as heroes until they are dead. Heroes there are in real life to day, all around us, but a couple of lines in the newspaper is about all they get until death comes. Then the usual clamor of public sentiment demands, and gets, a marble shaft that pierces the sky.

Brotherly love is unlike in any other country the brotherly love we know and feel in America. Men may differ with us in love, in politics, in religion, but let misfortune overtake one, and that spirit of brotherly love forgives and forgets. And somehow it seems natural that Americans are brothers after all—somehow it seems that a fellow feeling makes one not only wondrous kind in this country, but serves to make the world kin.

Editorials.

UNDER the title, "Editorials," Collier's Weekly goes back into the past to find editorial writers—greatly to the delight of all of us little fellows of today who are earning our bread and butter by producing that which passes current for "editorial" matter. The paper mentioned Voltaire, Macaulay and Swift as being among those of the past who would have made fine editorial writers. But a correspondent of the Weekly wants Dickens and DeFoe also included in the list.

In its comment the paper says that "DeFoe, however, with his marvelous impressions of actuality, would be greater as a special writer than as an editorial critic." The mention of the name Dickens, however, appeals to the Weekly, which adds:

"Dickens, if he could adapt himself to brief units, would in American journalism today be a mighty power to reach and move the hearts of men. The same genius that went into his fiction has overflowed into some of his critical work, and always there is the great ability to entertain, mixed with a need of using that power for the betterment of life, which is exactly the combination that the ideal editor ought to have, particularly in America, but more and more in all countries as they become more Democratic."

The combination which the ideal editor ought to have—ability to entertain and power for the betterment of life. How very far, oh, Lord, are the most of us from the ideal! But, perhaps, in the good days to come we shall breed ideal editors—and the angels will declare the millennium at hand, without further comment.—Dayton News.

Another thing Put Sandles could do as high mogul in the department of agriculture is have a law passed against any man selling a wormy chestnut.

The New York man who married his mother-in-law says he is perfectly happy. That being the case we see no cause for comment and take it that it is none of our business.

An exchange declares that the auto is not displacing the horse. No. But the auto is displacing a number of citizens who fail to hear the honk.

One happy thought that ranks above all others in the brain of the average editor is that one which teaches him to know he is not going to be affected by the income tax.

The Findlay Advertiser says Hancock county has not had a sensation for fifteen years. Then why didn't you have it arranged so Mr. Roosevelt could be shot there.

The duck hunting season is on. Open season for quail starts in just a month. Why should any man waste ammunition on a flock of presidential candidates?

Happy thought: Why not pass a law against kissing at the traction station so the cars can depart on time.

Eat Meat Just as Often

In spite of soaring prices, Americans like meat too well to do without it altogether. And when you can make one pound go as far as two, and have dishes equally nourishing and even more appetizing, you can have meat as often as you like. The handy 5c and 10c packages of

Flavorful, Firm, Tender, FOULDS' MACARONI

CLEANLY MADE BY AMERICANS

are first aid to the housewife who is trying to keep down expenses without lowering her standard of living. It is the heartiest of all wheat foods, and with enough meat, or cheese or tomatoes to give the flavor you like best, it makes dozens of dishes you will be glad to add to your regular bill of fare.

Here are two recipes that ought to be tried right soon. These dishes are meat, potatoes and vegetable all in one—a full meal in themselves.

Hamburger Steak and Spaghetti

Let simmer together for thirty minutes, half pound hamburger steak, half can tomatoes and half an onion cut fine. While this is being done, boil without breaking slices, and drain a five-cent package of Foulds' Spaghetti as directed in the package.

To the hamburger steak, tomatoes, etc., add half pound cheese cut fine or grated, half tablespoon of butter and allow to simmer fifteen minutes longer, then add spaghetti or average spaghetti around the edge of a warmed meat platter and pour hamburger steak, tomatoes, etc. in center.

Chipped Beef with Macaroni

Use one five-cent package of Foulds' Macaroni and one-fourth pound of water-soaked dried beef for three or four persons. Without breaking the slices, boil and drain the macaroni as directed in the package.

Shred the dried beef finely and bring to boil in two cupsful of rich milk; thicken with flour or corn starch stirred up in a little cold water, remove from the fire and stir in one well-beaten egg. Put the macaroni in a serving dish, pour the creamed mixture over it and sprinkle paprika liberally on top.

These recipes are from The Americanized Macaroni and Spaghetti Cook Book which contains fifty more—some simple, others elaborate enough for any occasion. You owe it to your family and your purse to learn how to use Foulds to the best advantage. Send for the Cook Book. It's free.

Eat Meat Just as Often

In spite of soaring prices, Americans like meat too well to do without it altogether. And when you can make one pound go as far as two, and have dishes equally nourishing and even more appetizing, you can have meat as often as you like. The handy 5c and 10c packages of flavor, firm tender,

FOULDS' MACARONI
CLEANLY MADE BY AMERICANS

are first aid to the housewife who is trying to keep down expenses without lowering her standard of living. It is the heartiest of all wheat foods, and with enough meat, or cheese or tomatoes to give the flavor you like best, it makes dozens of dishes you will be glad to add to your regular bill of fare.

Here are two recipes that ought to be tried right soon. These dishes are meat, potatoes and vegetable all in one—a full meal in themselves.

Hamburger Steak and Spaghetti

Let simmer together for thirty minutes, half pound hamburger steak, half can tomatoes and half an onion cut fine. While this is being done, boil without breaking slices, and drain a five-cent package of Foulds' Spaghetti as directed in the package.

To the hamburger steak, tomatoes, etc., add half pound cheese cut fine or grated, half tablespoon of butter and allow to simmer fifteen minutes longer, then add spaghetti or average spaghetti around the edge of a warmed meat platter and pour hamburger steak, tomatoes, etc. in center.

Chipped Beef with Macaroni

Use one five-cent package of Foulds' Macaroni and one-fourth pound of water-soaked dried beef for three or four persons. Without breaking the slices, boil and drain the macaroni as directed in the package.

Shred the dried beef finely and bring to boil in two cupsful of rich milk; thicken with flour or corn starch stirred up in a little cold water, remove from the fire and stir in one well-beaten egg. Put the macaroni in a serving dish, pour the creamed mixture over it and sprinkle paprika liberally on top.

These recipes are from The Americanized Macaroni and Spaghetti Cook Book which contains fifty more—some simple, others elaborate enough for any occasion. You owe it to your family and your purse to learn how to use Foulds to the best advantage. Send for the Cook Book. It's free.

DISCUSS PLANS FOR BOULEVARD WITH OVERHEAD

IMPROVEMENT CONTEMPLATED WILL EXTEND INTO SHAWNEE TOWNSHIP.

TO ELIMINATE GRADE CROSSING OVER ERIE. WOULD ALSO GIVE WESTERN OHIO LINE A BETTER ROUTE INTO THE CITY.

At a meeting held in the offices of Mackenzie & Weadock, attorneys, in the Holmes building Wednesday evening, plans were discussed which contemplate the construction of a modern boulevard from the present extreme west end of Market street to the Spencerville road at a point near the Simons brick yards and thence over the Spencerville and Shawnee roads to a point south of the Shawnee Country Club. William L. Mackenzie presided at the meeting and among the interested parties who were present were Messrs. N. L. Michael, H. W. Pears, W. A. McBeth, D. C. Henderson, D. C. Dunn, Waldo Berryman, and J. A. Umbaugh, the latter a trustee of Shawnee township.

It was stated that the owners of property along the route of the proposed boulevard have agreed to donate strips of land along the route to permit of the execution of the plan as now contemplated. The plan devised contemplates the conversion of the section served by the boulevard into a residence district of the highest class.

The boulevard would be 140 feet in width, and there would be provision for a double track street railway in the center of the street, which would, of course be paved.

The suburban districts served by the boulevard would be reached without crossing any railway at grade. It is the plan to cross the Chicago and Erie railroad on a 35-foot concrete bridge. The railroad in the course of the work of laying a double track through the county, has lowered the grade at this crossing some eight and one-half feet, and has arranged with the county commissioners for an overhead crossing 16 feet in width.

A committee of the property owners will meet the county commissioners tomorrow to discuss such a change in the arrangement for this bridge as will permit of concrete construction and of a width that will permit of a 36 foot road-

AN HISTORIC CHAIR

A chair that William Shakespeare may have sat in was exhibited in Part IV of the City Court of New York. It was the subject of a controversy between Walter Aldrich and the executors of the estate of J. W. Bouton. According to the description it is "a carved oak chair with high cane back, spirally twisted columns carved with heads at both sides and surmounted by a crown, a crown on the stretcher below." Aldrich alleged that he bought the chair for $300, but left it with the executors. When he demanded the chair delivery was refused. Aldrich sued the executors for $300, but Justice Green dismissed the complaint. The chair is supposed to have been one of a set that Shakespeare had in his home at Stratford-on-Avon.

way. The present plan of the railroad is to build a steel girder bridge.

The building of the boulevard would fit into two other improvements already proposed. The extension of the city street railway system along the boulevard would not only serve the residents along the street, but would enable the Western Ohio railroad to effect an improvement which has long been regarded as desirable.

In entering the city by the present route, time is lost and electricity is used, in making the numerous turns that are crowded into the section between McBeth's park and the turn onto Market street at Cole. Not fewer than five sharp turns would be eliminated by the use of the new route.

The other improvement that would go hand in hand with the new proposal is that of paving the Spencerville road as far as the country club. It was proposed that the property owners and the county should join in making the improvement.

HISTORIC SOCIETY HOLDS A MEETING

Worcester, Mass., Oct. 17.—The old town of Worcester is today thronged with distinguished men and women, from all parts of the world, who are attending the centennial of the American Antiquarian Society, one of the oldest national institutions in this country.

The guests include President Taft, Senator Lodge, Ambassador James Bryce, of Great Britain, the French Ambassador, John J. Jesserand former Secretary of War, Richard Olney and many diplomats, scholars and educators from various South American states.

A reception and luncheon was held this afternoon at which President Taft was the guest of honor, his host being Waldo Lincoln, president of the society. Later in the day, a public meeting was held at the First Unitarian Church, the old meeting house of the Second Parish, where the first session of the American Antiquarian Society was held, just one hundred years ago today.

The principal speakers at this afternoon's session were Senator Henry Cabot Lodge and Andrew Cunningham McLaughlin.

Fair Play
One of the hardest things to wash is a mechanic's shirt. It accumulates dust and grime and grease, naturally, and the effort to get that dust and grime and grease out with ordinary soap, is something tremendous. "Easy Task Soap," however, does half the work for you and makes the other half easier. Its duty is to get after the dirt and take it out. You don't have to rub and scrub over the tub. Tell your grocer you want it. Five cents a cake—same price as poor soaps.

OLDEST OHIO MAN IS DEAD

Cleveland, Oct. 17.—Ferdinand Handuken, who died at the Crawford county infirmary yesterday and who was claimed to be the oldest man in Ohio, was a native of Poland. He was born in the part awarded to Prussia in the final partition of that unhappy land, on April 27, 1800, only six years after his country lost its national identity, and before it had become reconciled to the change. Washington had died only four months before his birth.

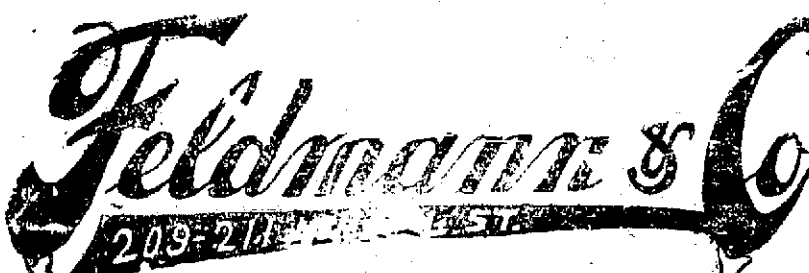

Handuken, who at his death had attained the wonderful age of 112 years, 5 months and 16 days, spent the first fifty years of his life in Poland. There he was married and became the father of a son. His wife and son both died in their native country, and in 1850, Handuken turned his face to the new world. He located in Crestline, and there he lived for another half a century. In 1901, on Oct. 23, he was admitted to the infirmary and had since made his headquarters there, though when conditions were favorable he would go out and engage in his favorite pursuit of gathering berries and nuts and in other similar activities. All the past summer and fall he had been busy in these lines.

COPPER BOOMS ON THURSDAY

WALL STREET AND LONDON STILL SHOW EFFECTS OF WAR NEWS.

New York, Oct. 17.—Still another revival of confidence occurred in stocks Thursday when news of probable peace in the far east was received. The market opened slightly weaker and at 11 a. m. movements were irregular. American copper was again active and sold off three-quarters up. In the late forenoon there were recessions, railroads selling off to a greater extent than industrials. European sentiment regarding the situation in the Balkans is having its effect on the market, the news that Russia nor Austria will become involved in the fighting serving to strengthen most all stocks.

COPPER BOOMS ON THURSDAY

WALL STREET AND LONDON STILL SHOW EFFECTS OF WAR NEWS.

New York, Oct. 17.—Still another revival of confidence occurred in stocks Thursday when news of probable peace in the far east was received. The market opened slightly weaker and at 11 a. m. movements were irregular. American copper was again active and sold off three-quarters up. In the late forenoon there were recessions, railroads selling off to a greater extent than industrials. European sentiment regarding the situation in the Balkans is having its effect on the market, the news that Russia nor Austria will become involved in the fighting serving to strengthen most all stocks.

When Woman's Work is Done
Somebody said, "Woman's work is never done." Anything that emancipates her from this form of slavery is hailed with joy. This is the reason for the constantly increasing popularity of "Easy Task Soap," the hard, white pure laundry soap, that does half the work of wash-day by itself. Add to this the fact that it positively does not rot or streak the clothes, that it launders lace linens flannels silks bedding, table cloths and all fabrics perfectly, and you will understand why it should be in your house right away.
